PART 1

THE CITES LISTINGS IN APPENDICES I, II AND III incorporating amendments made since the Convention came into force and English common names

The scientific names in these lists are based on the official Appendices I and II as at 22 October 1987 and Appendix III as at 21 September 1988, and on previous editions of the official Appendices produced by the CITES Secretariat. The English common names are derived from many different sources but the main criterion for selection has been aptness. The majority are included in Common Names of Species Listed on Appendices I and II also produced by the CITES Secretariat.

Appendices I & II - as at 22 October 1987
and incorporating amendments made since
the Convention came into effect

INTERPRETATION:

1. Species included in these Appendices are referred to:
  - a) by the name of the species; or
  - b) as being all of the species included in a higher taxon or designated part thereof.
2. The abbreviation "spp." is used to denote all species of a higher taxon.
3. Other references to taxa higher than species are for the purposes of information or classification only.
4. The abbreviation "p.e." is used to denote species which are possibly extinct.
5. An asterisk (*) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon indicates that one or more geographically separate populations, subspecies or species of that species or taxon are included in Appendix I and that these populations, subspecies or species are excluded from Appendix II.
6. Two asterisks (**) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon indicates that one or more geographically separate populations, subspecies or species of that species or taxon are included in Appendix II and that these populations, subspecies or species are excluded from Appendix I.
7. The symbol (N) indicates that further details concerning that taxon may be found in the Notes on pages 35-39.
8. The symbol (F) indicates that details concerning further changes in the listing of that taxon may be found in the Special Flora Notes on pages 40-41.
9. The symbol (III) indicates that a part or the whole of the taxon was previously listed in Appendix III.

Appendix III - as at 21 September 1988
and incorporating amendments made since
the Convention came into effect

INTERPRETATION:

1. Species included in this Appendix are referred to:
  - a. by the name of the species; or until 5 March 1986
  - b. as being all of the species included in a higher taxon or designated part thereof.
2. The abbreviation "spp." is used to denote all species of a higher taxon.
3. Other references to taxa higher than species are for the purpose of information or classification only.
4. An asterisk (*) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon indicates that one or more geographically separate populations, subspecies or species of that species or taxon was included in Appendix I and that these populations, subspecies or species were excluded from Appendix III. This clause has been inapplicable since 5 March 1986.
5. a) Two asterisks (**) placed against the name of a species indicate that one subspecies is included in Appendix II and that this subspecies is excluded from Appendix III.

b) Until 5 March 1986, two asterisks (**) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon indicated that one or more geographically separate populations, subspecies or species of that species or taxon were included in Appendix II and that these populations, subspecies or species were excluded from Appendix III.
6. The two-letter country codes placed against the names of species or other taxa are those of the Parties submitting these species or taxa for inclusion in this Appendix (see KEY).
7. Any animal or plant, whether alive or dead, of a species or other taxon listed in this Appendix, is covered by the provisions of the Convention, as is any readily recognizable part or derivative thereof.
8. The symbol (C) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon denotes that this species or higher taxon was included in Appendix I, except for Canada which entered a specific reservation with regard to them. This clause has been inapplicable since 4 February 1977.
9. The symbol (C) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon denotes that this species or higher taxon was included in Appendix II, except for Canada which entered a specific reservation with regard to them. This clause has been inapplicable since 4 February 1977.
10. The symbol (N) indicates that further details concerning that taxon may be found in the Notes on pages 35-39.

A RECORD OF SPECIFIC RESERVATIONS ENTERED BY PARTIES TO CITES.

The scientific names in these lists are based on the official Appendices I and II as at 22 October 1987 and Appendix III as at 21 September 1988, and on previous editions of the official Appendices, produced by the CITES Secretariat. The information included has also been obtained from documents produced by the CITES Secretariat.

A record of specific reservations entered by Parties to CITES
as at 22 October 1987

EXPLANATION:

The list on the following pages details all reservations that have been entered by Parties to the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora. The dates given are the date of entry into force of each reservation and, where relevant, the date of withdrawal of the reservation. In the following text, as in the Convention, "species" means any species, subspecies or geographically separate population thereof.

A list of the ISO country codes used is included on page 63.

KEY:

(N) - indicates that further details concerning that taxon may be found in the Notes on pages 58-62.

p - indicates the change to the listing of reservations relating to psittacines entered by Switzerland and Liechtenstein. The previous reservation, which included all Psittaciformes with the exception of a number of specified species, was withdrawn and replaced by a list of those species for which reservations are currently held. As a result, the number of psittacine species for which these countries hold reservations was greatly reduced.

r - denotes a reservation withdrawn as a result of the removal of a species from the Appendices

s - denotes a reservation succeeded by a later reservation involving a higher taxonomic group

t - denotes a reservation withdrawn as a result of a species having been transferred from Appendix I to Appendix II

T - denotes a reservation withdrawn as a result of a species having been transferred from Appendix II to Appendix I or from Appendix III to Appendix II

! - indicates reservations entered by Austria with respect to all amendments to Appendices I and II adopted at the fourth, fifth and sixth meetings of the Conference of the Parties held in Gaborone, Botswana in April 1983, Buenos Aires, Argentina in April 1985 and Ottawa, Canada in July 1987 respectively and with respect to a number of amendments to the Appendices agreed by the Parties by postal vote.

- Balaenoptera borealis* (a) : Reservation not applicable to stocks (A) in North Pacific and (B) in area from 0° longitude to 70° east longitude from the equator to the Antarctic Continent
- Balaenoptera physalus* (a) : Reservation not applicable to stocks (A) in North Atlantic off Iceland, (B) in North Atlantic off Newfoundland and (C) in area from 40° south latitude to Antarctic Continent, from 120° west longitude to 60° west longitude
- CACTACEAE spp. (a) : All species of the family in the Americas
- CACTACEAE spp. (b) : Until 29 August 1986, the listing of Cactaceae spp. in Appendix II was annotated "All species of the family in the Americas". This annotation was deleted by an amendment proposed by the Netherlands. The proposal stated that there were four possible interpretations of the annotated listing of Cactaceae spp. in Appendix II:
- a. All cacti regardless of their origin and status (either wild-collected or artificially propagated) were covered by CITES; or
  - b. All cacti taken in the wild in the Americas or artificially propagated in the Americas were covered by the Convention. Therefore, cacti artificially propagated or from naturalized populations from outside the Americas were not covered, except for Rhipsalis spp. which was listed separately; or
  - c. All cacti specimens were covered by CITES controls except those from naturalized populations outside the Americas. All specimens of Rhipsalis spp. were covered, regardless of their source; or
  - d. Appendix II cactus species included only those whose wild populations were completely confined to the Americas. Therefore, with the exception of Rhipsalis spp. which was separately listed, all species with naturalized populations outside the Americas were not covered by CITES controls.

On the basis of these interpretations of the annotation, its deletion resulted in one of the following four additions to Appendix II with respect to which Austria has entered a reservation:

- a. None; or
- b. All cacti artificially propagated outside the Americas and from naturalized populations outside the Americas, except Rhipsalis spp. and species already in Appendix I; or
- c. All naturalized populations of Appendix II cacti outside the Americas except those of Rhipsalis spp.; or
